YORK COUNTY SENIOR COLLEGE LECTURE SERIES: Features History, Global and Local Community. Saco/Sanford, ME, January, 2019: York County Senior College's Winter 2019 Gary Sullivan Memorial Lecture Series commences in January with a focus on history, both familial and geographical. All Senior College lectures take place in the morning and afternoons of January 16, February 20 and March 20 at the Brothers of Christian Instruction in Alfred. Leading off the series is Fred Boyle, who was instrumental in initiating this winter activity for seniors. Fred's topic is "The Richness of Genealogy."; Dana Peck, president of the Biddeford Historical Society, provides the afternoon lecture, illuminating how the area participated in the Industrial Revolution in "Saco-Biddeford Mills: The Melting Pot."; Elsa Geskus, educational director of The Friends of the Kotschmar Organ, demonstrating the iconic pipe organ in "Kotsch in a Box," and Kennebunk Chief of Police Bob MacKenzie presenting a film and discussion about "Battling Opioids."; The series concludes in

March with a look beyond the U.S. borders, as Kim Jae Woong treats the audience to "Korean Spirit and Culture" and Monica and Bill Grabin explain the exotic species of fish and coral of the area east of Indonesia in "The Heart of the Coral Triangle." Morning lectures take place from 9:30-11:30, followed by lunch and a second lecture, given from 12:30 - 2:30pm. All winter lectures will be given at Denis Hall on the campus of the Brothers of Christian Instruction, 133 Shaker Hill Road, Alfred (off Route 202). The fee for each day's program is $20 for York County Senior College members, $25 for non-members, payable at the door by cash or check made payable to the York County Shelter Program, and includes lunch, as well as coffee breaks. Should classes be cancelled on account of weather, notice will be given on local TV stations and may be heard on the YCSC answering machine (207-282-4030). Call 207-282-4030 for reservations by the Monday before each lecture. York County Senior College, providing low cost educational and social opportunities for adults, is affiliated with the University of Maine System. Classes in the spring and fall semesters are given in Saco and Springvale, starting in March and September. Winter lectures are open to the public; membership in Senior College is not required.
